We are sorry to hear of the passing of Mrs. Belvia Webb at her home on Bottom Fork. She had been ill for about six years. We extend our sympathy to all her loved ones. May God bless them in their trying hours.

Our school is getting along fine. We hope to have the best school in the county. Our teachers are Mrs. Arvel Craft and Mrs. Richard Adams.

Adams Geneology

Old Jacob Adams lived out his days near the present town of North Wilkesboro, N. C. He had sons, John, Benjamin, Spencer, Abraham, Daniels and others. Most of his descendants now live in Johnson County, Mo., and the state of Washington.

Charles Adams was a soldier in the American Revolution. He was dead before 1789 when his sons Spencer and George were bound out.

Benjamin Adams came to Letcher county in 1803 with his brothers John and Spencer. He settled near where Jim Robinette's store is now; and I believe that both he and Henny, his wife, are buried near there. He left a will which is of record in Perry county. In it he names only one son John W., and daughters who were married, one to Randolph Holbrook, one to William Williams, one to an Etheridge, one to Charles Lewis and one to Stephen Caudill, as his second wife; and this is how all the Lewises, Williamses, Estheridges, Holbrooks and some of the Caudills are descendants of the Adams settlers. Benjamin's son John settled in Greene County, Missouri. Most of his descendants now live there and in Logan County, West Virginia. I tell me that old Ben had several sons who did not come to Kentucky, among them Joseph, John, Benjamin and Spencer.

Now we come to John our own ancestor. My folks always referred to him as Old John of All; and I thought, until I was a great big boy, that he was the first Adams; and that he had sprang up and grown out of the ground like a weed or a tree.

There is some doubt as to the name of John's first wife. Some of the records have her as "Winnie" and some as "Annie." She may have been a Caudill before her marriage; I prefer to think she was. Of this marriage there were three children at least. There was Stephen who settled in Magoffin County, and where his descendants are numerous; Elizabeth, who married Archelus Craft; and a son, whose name has not been recovered, who married and had at least one son, Stephen, who in the year 1818 deeded his grandfather's widow his share in Old John's estate. He settled at the mouth of Rockhouse and his descendants live in the and in Southern Missouri. He lower end of Letcher County had several sons among whom were Spencer, Elijah, Jesse, Daniel and others.

Old John's second wife was Letty Simpson, whom we presume, was a daughter of Samuel Simpson, a neighbor to John in Wilkes county, and who later settled in Orange County, N. C. John and Letty had the following children that grew to maturity: Benjamin who lived about the mouth of Millstone; John Micajah who settled on Lotts Creek, Perry County; Aggie, who married Alexander Smith, and also lived on Lotts Creek, or maybe it was Carr; Spencer settled first in Morgan County, then (according south and was never heard of to descendants) he "went again." He was called Crippled Spencer and was a shoemaker. Others were Polly who married her cousin William Green Adams and lived in Whitley County, later returning to Letcher County; Jane who married Benjamin Webb, and from whom all the Webbs of this section are descended; Lydia who married Ephrian Hammons and lived on Rockhouse and Carr; Randolph who lived on Smoot or lower down Kentucky River; Solomon who lived in PerPry or lower end of Letcher, he went to Dallas County, Alabama, with his uncle Spencer, but came back to Kentucky; Simpson who moved to Ohio; and Absalom Drury who lived on Smoot or Rockhouse. He was called "Drew" Adams, but usually signed himself Absalom Drury or Absalom D. It appears that he and Randolph were the only two born in Kentucky.

KENTUCKY NEWS IN BRIEF

Governor Wetherby announced plans for construction of a new two-unit armory at Paducah to cost $185,000. The State furnishes $46,250 of the necessary funds and the federal government $138,750. The armory was deemed necessary because of its role in the defense effort. Paducah also is the site of the Atomic Energy Commission's $1,000,000,000 plant.

The Kentucky Public Service Commission allowed the Frankfort Natural Gas Company and Limestone Gas Company — serving Frankfort, Versailles, Midway, Paris and Maysville — rate increases, but did not grant the original requests.

The Frankfort Company sought an increase of $117,000 a year and was allowed $86,700, while the Limestone Company sought $63,651 and was allowed $58,185.

The State Unemployment Insurance Division took default judgments totaling $47,599.23 against ninety-nine employers in Franklin Circuit Court for sums due the State Unemployment Trust Account. Penalties and interest also will be added to the sums.

Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby allocated $16,730 from his emergency fund to facilitate the work of the State Board of Registration and Purgation and to establish machinery for the proper removal of names of those who no longer belong there. Meanwhile, the Attorney General's office ruled that any voter whose name was removed from the voter rolls had five days in which to appeal the order to the County Court.

A LETTER

Dear Editor:
Following is a letter to the good people of Letcher County:

We want you to vote for someone in the race for member of the Board of Education in your district. Please consider carefully. Education is a big business today. Let us keep thinking in terms of boys and girls, the greatest and best resource of our hills. Whoever trains and teaches the children of today is an important person in the later life of these young men and women.

There is less truancy, less crime where better teachers teach and where citizens vote for better members of Boards of Education. Don't wait for the dust to settle. Look through the dust, the rush and then vote for the better person.

It is your task and your duty to inform yourself as to the qualifications and ambitions of the candidates themselves, as well as the persons they are for for Superintendent.

Remember the superintendent of schools is the executive office and as such executes the will of the Board. Be careful that these men are business men of ability and will use that ability for the good of our children and further that their own private business shall not interfere with their duties as members.

Anyway, be sure to vote in the Educational race in your community. Do not fail to ask for the educational ticket. It is on a separate ballot. If necessary, ask your teacher, your friend, anyone, but find out who are candidates. Then determine for yourself which ones you think are sincerely interested in the welfare of boys and girls.

It must not be only interested, but able and willing to perform. We are not making any suggestions or intimidating any. We merely want to tell you it is important that you vote in the educational race. Then be sure to vote in the presidential race—vote—vote.

—E. H. JOHNSON.

Daniel Boone, patron pioneer of Kentucky, is buried, along with his wife Rebecca, in Frankfort's historic cemetery.
