Council Members Select Delegates At Monday Meet

Members of the Bismarck Parent-Teachers association council met Monday evening in the Will school with Mrs. Leo Shark, president, in charge of the meeting.

The council voted to appoint a delegate to the Bismarck county federation to be named by Mrs. Shark, and to send two delegates to the state convention in Fargo, Apr. 25 and 26. The delegates will be Mrs. Shark and Mrs. Charles Graves.

The date for the convention was confirmed and local units are asked to send delegates to the convention. Delegates must arrange for their own hotel reservations, however, Mrs. Shark said.

A motion was passed to give 70 per cent of the net proceeds from the PTA concert to local PTA units with the remaining 30 per cent to be retained by the council. It also was decided to add the item, "A Tribute to Miss Miracle," written by Mrs. William E. Mills, to the minutes.

It was announced that Miss Judith Rue has been appointed state publicity chairman of the national PTA magazine. Miss Rue, state chairman of the PTA audio-visual committee, reported that each PTA unit should appoint an audio-visual chairman.

She further stated that each chairman should attempt to obtain more members and should report on audio-visual committee meetings or on information obtained from the national PTA magazine at every regular PTA meeting.

Mrs. Shark announced that she would appoint a nominating committee for officers for the coming year in the near future.

Miss Babcock Recites Vows With E. Van Petten Sunday

MRS. EDWARD VAN PETTEN (Mason Owens)

Baskets of white gladioli and Easter lilies decorated the McCabe Methodist church when Miss Marilyn Jean Babcock, daughter of Mrs. Bernice Babcock, 1207 Third St., became the bride of Edward E. Van Petten, 608 Third St., son of Mrs. Helena Van Petten, Thermopolis, Wyo., at 4 p. m. Sunday.

White crosses and lemon leaves marked the pews and white candles in brass candelabra decorated the altar. The Rev. Francis V. Tannehill performed the single-ring ceremony.

Clarion Larson, organist, played traditional nuptial selections and accompanied soloists Oriand Heskin and Miss Carol Bucklin, Mandan.

"Pans Angelicus" was sung by Mr. Heskin and Miss Bucklin sang "A Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her uncle, V. J. Speaks, Oakland, Calif., the bride was attired in a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace and net over white satin. The bodice was fashioned with finger tip length sleeves and was formed with Chantilly lace which fell over a net skirt in an irregularly shaped, applied design.

The yoke of the gown was of French illusion with a round neck line. Her French illusion veil fell from a Juliet cap circled with a leaf design of embroidery, embellished with tiny seed pearls. She carried a prayer book, topped with orchids.

From which white streamers tied with fern and lilies of the valley hung.

Mrs. Betty Ode, 702 Avenue F, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bodice of her ballerina length gown was of pastel brocade with a large bow at the left side. Gold threads were interwoven through the brocade and a scarf of bluish pink illusion covered her shoulders and fashioned the full overskirt of the gown over bluish pink taffeta. She wore a short veil of pink tulle and a closely fitting cap of the same material.

Miss Peggy Tyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tyler, River Road, was bridesmaid. She appeared in a gown, also ballerina length, of pale orchid net over white taffeta. An orchid stole covered her shoulders and velvet orpingtons were scattered over the stole and bodice of the gown. Her headpiece, fashioned after the matron of honor's, was of orchid net.

Both the matron of honor and the bridesmaid carried fan-shaped bouquets of fern, snapdragons and tulips backed by lace ribbon with white satin streamers.

A niece of the bride, Linda Ode, was flowergirl. Her dress was of white organdy over white taffeta and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations with pink satin streamers. The circle of tiny, white satin roses decorated her head.

Mark Ode, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer. He was dressed in a short-trousered suit of soldier blue. He carried a white satin, heart shaped pillow which had been used at previous weddings in the bride's family.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue street length dress of lace over taffeta and a corsage of pinocchio roses and white carnations.

Best man was William Linton, Summit, N. D. Usherettes were Miss Carole Bonnevillie, Miss Shirley Riecke, Miss Jean Hauser and Miss Beverly Thompson.

Two hundred guests attended a reception in the church parlors after the ceremony. A four-tiered wedding cake surrounded by red roses and white gladioli centered the table.

Fouring were Mrs. William Lukins and Mrs. V. J. Speaks. Mrs. Lucille Anderson cut the cake, while Miss Ann Betta was in charge of the gift table and Miss Lorraine Anderson was at the guest book. Assisting about the rooms were the Mesdames Marlene Morgan, Betty Boatright, Lola Bolkan and Donna Zerr.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Speaks and son, Robert Oakland, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Speaks and family, Coleharbor; Mrs. Vernon Allen, Eugene, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. James Speaks, Underwood; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Small, Driscoll, and Mrs. William Allen and daughter, Harry Pochant, Jr., and Glenn E. Speaks, all of Coleharbor.

The bride is a graduate of Bismarck high school and attended Bismarck Junior college. At the present time she is employed by the North Dakota Merit System council.

A graduate of the University of Colorado, the bridegroom was a first lieutenant in the army air corps for three years during World War II. He is employed as a geo-physicist by Petroleum Consultants, Inc. of Tulsa, Okla.

Following a week's wedding trip to Thermopolis, the newlyweds will make their home at 1300 Boulevard Ave.

Joy Morford Is March Bride of James Peightal

Miss Joy Morford, 717 Thayer Ave., and James Peightal, 2322 Broadway Ave., were married by Judge William Falconer in the Bismarck county courthouse, Mar. 17.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morford, Livonia, Minn., and Mrs. Roy Peightal, 2322 Broadway Ave., are the bridegroom's parents.

A navy print crepe dress and pink hat was worn by the bride. Her corsage was formed with white roses.

Mrs. Anton Doll, matron of honor, wore a gray and yellow dress accented with a yellow rose corsage. Willis Beers was best man.

A dinner at Dakota Steakhouse followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Peightal reside at 717 Thayer Ave. She is a 1946 graduate of Bismarck high school and is employed by the Provident Life Insurance company.

Mr. Peightal attended Bismarck high school and was employed at A.I. Texaco service. He is a member of the 362nd medium ordnance company of the national guard.
