Death came to Mrs. A. E. Burr last Thursday noon as a release from intense suffering. Her last illness lasted nearly two weeks, one week of that time being spent in the hospital at Hastings. The last week she was in a stupor much of the time and did not speak but a very few words. Mr. and Mrs. Burr came to the farm east of Upland 37 years ago. The task of rearing the large family in a small five room house with no conveniences and a very meagre income taxed the strength and courage of even this pioneer mother. The year after they arrived, 1894, nothing was raised and their only cow was killed by lightning. While conditions were often very discouraging by perseverance, and hard work they were able to leave the farm 14 years ago, move to town and have more of the comforts of life.

Those from out-of-town who attended the funeral were Mrs. Henry Speidel and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andersen and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bloom of Holdrege, Mrs. Emil Petersen of Ong, Mr. and Mrs. Swan Swanson and son Harry of Ong, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Petersen and baby, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Johnson of Harvard; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Speidel of Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowrey of Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Davis and grandson of Hildreth, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clement and family and Mrs. Frank Stephens of Riverton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Trebold of Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Andersen and Oscar Andersen of Minden.
